First elected in 1996, Sharon Jackson is an independent business woman and owner of Jackson on the Moon Website and Graphic Design.

Sharon graduated With Merit from the Alberta College of Art in 1979 and moved into online design in 2005. Passionate about downtown revitalization, building design, accessibility, inclusiveness and social justice, she was instrumental in the formation of China Gardens Park on Government Street and Heiwa Park on Canada Avenue.

As the Chair of the Centennial Committee, she oversaw the organization of 18 major events over a two year period, including the Centennial Totem dedication and the Quench Fountain dedication and has provided strong leadership for 10 years as the Chair of the Advisory Committee on Disability Issues and is an outspoken advocate for the disabled.

Sharon is the mother of one daughter and a proud grandmother twice over and believes that she is called to community service in order to leave the world a better place for those who come after.

Sharon believes that local government is challenged by the need to balance limited financial resources with the need to provide highest quality possible public services for residents and businesses. She values public involvement and makes every effort to include citizens in the decisions that affect our neighbourhoods and quality of life in Duncan.
