

Student Planner - Term Position

The City of Duncan is seeking a planning student or recent graduate for the Development Services Department for a term position. This position is supervised by the Manager of Planning.

Duncan is located on Vancouver Island, in the heart of the 'Warmland' – the Cowichan Valley – mid-way between Nanaimo and Victoria. This compact city offers high-quality living and acts as the commercial centre of a large catchment area of approximately 75,000 people.

The student planner's tasks will focus on development applications, sign bylaw applications, bylaw contravention issues and contributing to finalizing and implementing the new Zoning Bylaw. In addition, the City is looking to refresh the Design Guidelines, amend the Sign Bylaw, and develop a Development Approval Procedures Bylaw. The student may assist in review, research, analysis of policies and draft reports to Council and other committees. Knowledge and experience in land use planning is essential and the ability to think bigger picture and envision innovative approaches to problem solving and policy creation will be a very strong asset.

The work week is 35 hours and the position lasts for 16 weeks. Candidates must have completed their first degree within the past six months or currently be a student.

The position begins as early as January 3rd and ends no later than June 3rd, 2017.
